Elysator

Hjellnes Consultants are a major engineering company in Scandinavia and we specify the Elysator Water Treatment system for all new buildings and retrofit projects. As a major engineering company we have found the Elysator to be efficient at protecting our closed loop systems from corrosion and sludge. It is also price competitive in comparison to continued chemical dosing.

The use of the Elysator reduces the total maintenance cost of a building as less maintenance and cleaning of ancillary equipment such as valves and heat exchangers is required.

We have found the Elysator system to be very efficient and competitive as a watertreater in closed heating cooling applications. It has proven to prevent corrosion (build up of sludge) in systems and there by reduce maintenance.

We describe the elysator both for new buildings and for retrofit.
